

A guide to the Typography Collection - Ionian University Museum for visitors on the autism spectrum

The Guide for visitors on the Autism Spectrum (GAS) was created by the GAS Group - Department of Archives, Library Science and Museology of the Ionian University and the Museum of the Ionian University.

This is the Ionian University in Corfu.
Inside I can visit it the Typography Collection.

Before I start, I have to remember that there are rules in the Museum:

- ✓ I look at the exhibits inside and outside the showcases from a distance without touching. That way everything remains clean and, above all, safe.
- ✓ During the visit I stay close to the ones who accompany me.
- ✓ I walk slowly and I am careful with my movements.
- ✓ I speak in a low voice. I can also use my inner voice.

I remember the rules and so everyone is happy!

Signs I will meet:

No smoking

Emergency exit

WC

Water coolers

There are seats in the area.
When I get tired, I can have a rest.

There are elevators inside the building.

The Typography Collection staff will accompany me through the visit.
If I need help, I can ask them.

In order to visit the Typography Collection
I need to plan my visit with the staff.

The Ionian University is based at Ioannis Theotokis street.
I can visit the Typography Collection inside.

This is the courtyard of the university.

I am at the entrance of the building.

I enter the building.
I might see some students.

There is a concierge office after the entrance.

After the concierge office I follow the corridor to the right.
I will see the stairs and the elevator.

I go up to the second floor of the building.

I am on the second floor of the building.
Here is the Typography Collection.

The guided tour begins.
I am following the staff.

In this area I am learning about typesetting.

I also see the printing press.

How I look:

- I stand in front of the exhibits, but not too close.
- I use my eyes and not my hands.
- I have my hands close to my body.

The exhibits are located near the walls.
I can make up stories about the exhibits in my mind.
This is a lot of fun!

In the hallway, I learn about linotype.

Then I see objects related to binding.

On the other side of the hallway, I see the typewriters and the duplicating machines.

It's time for me to go!
I need to make sure I have all my belongings with me.

Goodbye, Typography Collection!
I hope to visit you again and learn more things!
