Call for Papers

The ICIL conference is open to papers on any field of law and/or ethics related in any way to any aspect of information.

Papers of philosophy, sociology, history and psychology of information also interest us.

For the special sessions Arts and Ethics and Women in Academia, please see their webpage for instructions.

We are interested in papers on intellectual property, data protection, freedom of information, individual rights and information, privacy, cyberlaw and cyberethics, media law and ethics, digital divide and information technology, e-government, surveillance, intellectual freedom, open access, digital divide and other.

We are also particularly interested in papers on the historical development of information laws and ethical theory and we would also consider papers dealing with the social, political or psychological aspects of information.

Submitted abstracts of 250 words (references excluded) should be sent for review to botti@otenet.gr

Abstracts deadline: March 15, 2012

Notification on acceptance of abstracts: April 1, 2012

Full paper deadline: June 1, 2012

IMPORTANT NOTICE: We have opened the paper reviewing process; interested researchers will be informed about the review of their paper within 15 days from receipt of their abstract.
