The Department

The Department of Environment is located on Zakynthos Island. The Department is housed in a purpose-built building with state-of-the-art scientific equipment and teaching facilities. The wide range of staff's specialisms and research interests in the Environmental Sciences offers the opportunity to the students to obtain a high-quality education and to acquire skills to a professional level.

Students can complete part of their degree in other European Universities using the Erasmus+ student exchange program. They can also obtain professional experience via an optional scheme of practical training in the workplace, which is useful when seeking employment in the public and private sectors, at national or international level.
