

“KAIROS IN GREEK LITERATURE”

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE IN HONOUR OF PROFESSOR MIKE EDWARDS

15th – 18th JUNE, 2022
CORFU

FACULTY OF HISTORY
SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES
IONIAN UNIVERSITY

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

Athassios Efstathiou, Professor of Classics, Dean of School of Humanities,
Ionian University.

Eleni Volonaki, Assistant Professor, Department of Philology, University of the Peloponnese.

Dora Solti, Assistant Professor, Department of Greek Studies, Eötvös Loránd
University.

Emese Egedi-Kovács, Senior Research Associate, Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest.

Ifigeneia Giannadaki, Assistant Professor and Cassas Chair in Greek Studies, Department of Classics, University of Florida.

Mirka Palioura, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Ionian University.

Ioannis Kalliontzis, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Ionian University.

Paraskevi Tsirika, PhD Candidate, Department of History, Ionian University.

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Chris Carey, Emeritus Professor, Department of Greek and Latin, University College London.

Michael Gagarin, Emeritus Professor University of Austin Texas, USA.

László Horváth, Director of ELTE Eötvös Collegium, Budapest.

Konstantinos Kapparis, Professor of Classics, Director of Institute of Hellenic
Studies, University of Florida.

Flora Manakidou, Professor of Classics, Department of Philology, Democritus
University of Thrace.

Gregorios Psallidas, Professor of History, Department of History, Ionian
University.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE in honour of Professor Mike Edwards

"KAIROS IN GREEK LITERATURE"

Corfu
15th – 18th June, 2022

Faculty of History
School of Humanities
IONIAN UNIVERSITY

PROGRAMME

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15th

17:00-17:30	Registration – Coffee
17:30-18:30	Opening Ceremony of the Conference “Mike Edwards: the Scholar and the Academic Teacher”. Athanasios Efstathiou, Professor of Classics, Dean of the School of Humanities, Ionian University Georgia Xanthaki-Karamanou, Emerita Professor of University of the Peloponnese. Chris Carey, Emeritus Professor, Department of Greek and Latin, University College London
18:30-19:30	Key-note Lecture: Chris Carey, Emeritus Professor, Department of Greek and Latin, University College London: “ Kairos and Chaironeia: claiming victory from defeat in postwar rhetoric”.
19:30-21:00	Presentation of the volume: The Agon in Classical Literature: Essays in Honour of Professor Chris Carey , edited by Michael Edwards, Athanassios Efstathiou, Ioanna Karamanou, Eleni Volonaki.

THURSDAY, JUNE 16th

9:00-9:30	1st session: Theory of Rhetoric Chair: Vassilis Lentakis Michael Gagarin, Emeritus Professor, University of Austin Texas, USA: “ Kairos and Rhetoric: Alcidas on the Right Moment for Speaking”.
9:30-10:00	Terry Papillon, Dean of the College and Vice Provost for Academic Affairs, Professor of Classics, The University of the South Sewanee: “Timing, Triad and Teaching: Isocrates on Situational Teaching and Discourse”.
10:00-10:30	David Mirhady, Professor of Classics, Department of Humanities Chair, Simon Fraser University, Canada: “Theophrastus’ Politika pros tous kairous and the Crown Speeches”.
10:30-11:00	Coffee Break
11:00-11:30	Chair: László Horváth Demos Spatharas, Associate Professor of Classics, Department of Philology, University of Crete: “ Kairos in Aristotle’s definition of emotions”.
11:30-12:00	Manfred Kraus, Professor, Department of Classics, University of Tübingen: “ Καῖρός in Demosthenes’ Political Speeches and Contemporaneous Theoretical Concepts of Rhetoric”.

2nd session: Archaic Literature

12:00-12:30	Ariadne Gartzziou-Tatti, Emerita Professor of Classics, Department of Philology, University of Ioannina: “Cronos, Chronos, Aion and Eniautos in Archaic Greek Thought”.
12:30-13:00	Flora Manakidou, Professor of Classics, Department of Philology, Democritus University of Thrace: “Timely, Untimely in Archilochus and the Rhythm of human life”.
13:00-17:00	Break – Walk in the city
17:00-17:30	3rd session: Drama Chair: Theodoros Pappas Ioanna Karamanou, Associate Professor, Department of Philology, Aristotelean University of Thessaloniki: “ Kairos in Euripidean Rhetoric”.
17:30-18:00	Athina Papachrysostomou, Associate Professor of Greek Literature, Department of Philology, University of Patras: “Minding the sympotic kairos in Greek comic fragments”. (on-line)
18:00-18:30	Harvey Yunis, Andrew W. Mellon Professor of Humanities, Professor of Classics, Department of Modern and Classical Literatures and Cultures, Rice University: “Democratic Character in Thucydides and Plato”. (on-line)

FRIDAY, JUNE 17th

9:30-10:00	4th session: Oratory Chair: Demos Spatharas Eleni Volonaki, Assistant Professor, Department of Philology, University of the Peloponnese: “The use of the term Kairos in speeches of fifth and fourth centuries”.
10:00-10:30	Rosalia Hatzilamprou, Associate Professor, Department of Philology, University of Athens: “ Kairos and akairia in the attic inheritance speeches”.
10:30-11:00	Ifigeneia Giannadaki, Assistant Professor and Cassas Chair in Greek Studies, Department of Classics, University of Florida: “ Kairos and rhetorical argumentation in the paranomon speeches in the corpus Demosthenicum”.
11:00-11:30	Coffee Break
11:30-12:00	Chair: Rosalia Hatzilamprou Athanasios Efstathiou, Professor of Classics, Dean of the School of Humanities, Ionian University: “ Kairos in Aeschines”.
12:00-12:30	Konstantinos Apostolakis, Associate Professor, Department of Philology, University of Crete: “Transformations of kairos in Demosthenes’ Speeches”.
12:30-13:00	Johannes Engels, Professor, Department of History, University of Cologne: “ Kairos in orators of the Lykourgan Era”.
13:00-13:30	László Horváth, Director of ELTE Eötvös Collegium, Budapest: “Glorious vs. Inglorious Political καῖρός : Notes on the Fragments of Hyperides’ Speech Against Demosthenes ”.
13:30-17:30	Break

Chair: Konstantinos Apostolakis

17:30-18:00	Dora Solti, Assistant Professor, Department of Greek Studies, Eötvös Loránd University: “The Right Moment in the Textual Tradition of Aeschines”.
18:00-18:30	5th session: History, Politics and Medical Science Vassilis Lentakis, Professor of Classics, Director of the Faculty of Classics, Faculty of Philology, University of Athens: “Misjudging καῖρός : Speculations on Thucydides Book 9”.
18:30-19:00	Judith Mossman, Professor of Greek Literature, Pro Vice-Chancellor (Arts and Humanities): “Speaking epi kairou and the characterization of Demosthenes under the Roman Empire”.
19:00-19:30	Konstantinos Kapparis, Professor of Classics, Director of Institute of Hellenic Studies, University of Florida: “From καῖρός to Δελτίο Καρού: the semantic shifts of καῖρός in medical and scientific literature”. (on-line)
19:30-20:00	Caroline Petit, Associate Professor of Classics and History of Medicine, Department of Classics and Ancient History, University of Warwick (now Visiting Professor at the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin): “ kairos in medical texts”.

SATURDAY, JUNE 18th

9:00-9:30	6th session: Hellenistic, Late Antiquity and Byzantine Literature Chair: Amphilochios Papathomas William Furley, Professor of Classics, University of Heidelberg: “ Kairos in Cult and Art”.
9:30-10:00	Andreas Fountoulakis, Associate Professor of Greek Literature and Theatre, Department of Preschool Education Chair: “ Καῖρός Ἐρωτι φίλος (Phanias, AP 12.31.6): Desire and Time in the Epigrams of the Greek Anthology ”.
10:00-10:30	Emese Egedi-Kovács, Senior Research Associate, Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest: “The Concept of καῖρός in a Byzantine Hagiography. (Barlaam and Josaphat, cod. Athon. Iviron 463)”.
10:30-11:00	Theodora Antonopoulou, Professor of Byzantine Literature, Department of Philology, University of Athens: “ Kairos , the religious-political oratory of Emperor Leo VI, and the propaganda of the Macedonian dynasty”.
11:00-11:30	Coffee Break
11:30-12:00	7th session: Inscriptions and Papyrology / Reception Chair: Chris Carey Adele Scafuro, Professor of Classics, Department of Classics, Brown University: “Epigraphic καῖρός : ἐν παντὶ καιρῶι and ἐν τοῖς νῦν ἐόντι καιροῖ (IPArk5, 55)”.
12:00-12:30	Amphilochios Papathomas, Professor of Ancient Greek Literature and Papyrology, Head of the Faculty of Philology, University of Athens: “ Kairos in non-literary papyri”.
12:30-13:00	Mirka Palioura, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Ionian University: “The Oath of the Horatii’ by J.-L. David (1784): the moment of a looming victory”.
13:00-13:30	CLOSURE OF THE CONFERENCE